

Grand Canyon Sacrifice

by Scott Graham | foreword by Anne Hillerman | May 2025

In this special tenth anniversary edition of the first book in the National Park Mystery Series, Grand Canyon Sacrifice brings the rugged beauty and ongoing cultural fissures of the West vividly to life. Reeling from a whirlwind romance and adjusting to life with two young stepdaughters, Chuck Bender must reckon with his past as he faces every parent's worst nightmare: a missing child.

SCOTT GRAHAM is the award-winning author of the National Park Mystery Series. An avid outdoorsman and public lands advocate, he lives with his spouse in Durango, Colorado.

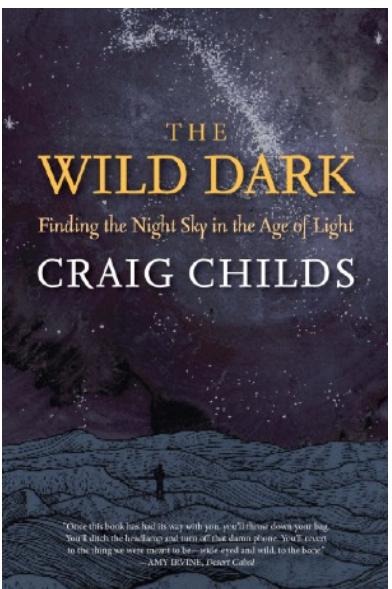

Bitter Creek: An Epic Poem

by Teow Lim Goh | May 2025

In September of 1885, the Chinese coal miners who were brought into Wyoming as strikebreakers were ambushed by white coal miners and driven out of town—in an event known today as the Rock Springs Massacre. Through the eyes of the struggling railroad workers, their families, and the corporation working them to the bone, Bitter Creek blends epic tradition with modern composition and astonishing empathy.

TEOW LIM GOH is a poet and essayist immersed in her ongoing project to recover the histories of Chinese immigrants in the American West. Based in Lakewood, Colorado, Goh is the author of multiple poetry collections and a Colorado Book Awards nominated essay collection.

The Wild Dark: Finding the Night Sky in the Age of Light

by Craig Childs | May 2025

At a time when most people on Earth live in regions of acute light pollution, Craig Childs takes us on a journey to rediscover the awesome power of night itself.

A night sky is not an absence of light; it is the presence of the universe. In The Wild Dark, master storyteller Craig Childs embarks on a quest to bike from the blinding lights of the Las Vegas Strip to one of the darkest spots in North America. Childs is a fearless explorer of both the natural world and the human imagination, making him the perfect guide to help us rediscover the heavens and to ask: "What does it do to us to not see the night sky?" In a book that is at once an adventure story, a field guide, and a celebration of wonder, Childs invites us to look up and to look inward, eyes wide and sparkling with stars.

The Wild Dark

by Craig Childs

Continued...

CRAIG CHILDS has published more than a dozen critically acclaimed books, including Virga & Bone, Tracing Time, and The Secret Knowledge of Water. Childs lives in southwest Colorado.

In the Crosswinds: Birds, Humans, and the Paradox of Place

by Eli J. Knapp | June 2025

In the Crosswinds is the story of one man's hilarious, sometimes quixotic quest to understand the meaning of place—and, for the rest of us, a practical manifesto for being truly present in the natural world.

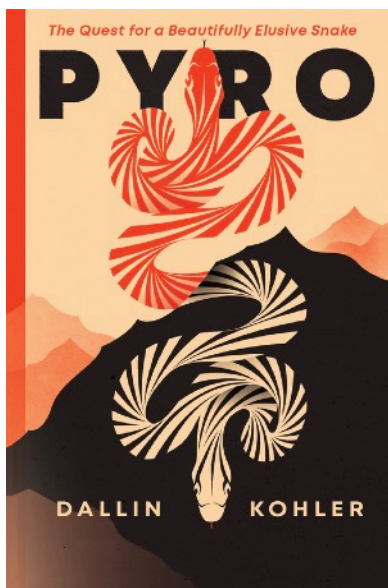

From the woods of western New York to the jungles of Ecuador to the wetlands of Africa, Knapp takes us on a series of captivating and humorous journeys to see the world from a bird's eye view. In these avian worlds, we discover new ways of understanding how we fit into a more-than-human context and see how birds demonstrate the potential to unlock relationships—with one another and with place.

ELI J. KNAPP is the author of The Delightful Horror of Family Birding and a Foreword INDIE Book Award medalist for Dead Serious: Wild Hope Amid the Sixth Extinction. He is a Professor of Ecology at Houghton College. Knapp lives in Fillmore, NY, with his wife and children.

Pyro: The Quest for a Beautifully Elusive Snake

by Dallin Kohler | June 2025

Despite their eye-popping colors, the Arizona mountain kingsnake (formally Lampropeltis pyromelana) are masters of secrecy. From picturesque sandstone canyons to unexpected encounters at a local casino, herpetologist Dallin Kohler takes readers on an exhilarating, swashbuckling journey through the secret wonders of the American West.

With his infectious enthusiasm and keen eye for detail, Kohler introduces us to a delightful array of creatures—spunky lizards, a psychedelic toad, grumpy rattlesnakes—as he explores the paradox of these brilliantly colored-yet-hidden creatures. Pyro promises to captivate readers with thrilling escapades, expert insights into the natural world, and warm humor.

DALLIN KOHLER is a writer and herpetologist from Meridian, Idaho. As a graduate student, he is dedicated to unraveling the mysteries of nature's most fascinating reptiles and amphibians. Kohler loves the NBA, classical pianos, and a well-crafted pun.

Things I Didn't Do: A Novel

by Karin Anderson | August 2025

The day Ryder Mickelson fell from a loaded pack mule high in the Book Cliffs of eastern Utah, everything changed. He was seven years old, and some things would never quite be the same. The way he walks. How he rides a horse. The way he looks at a family photograph. In writing that is fiercely intimate and expansively lyrical, Things I Didn't Do explores experiences and revelations that—in a single moment—change our understanding of ourselves and reverberate far into the future.

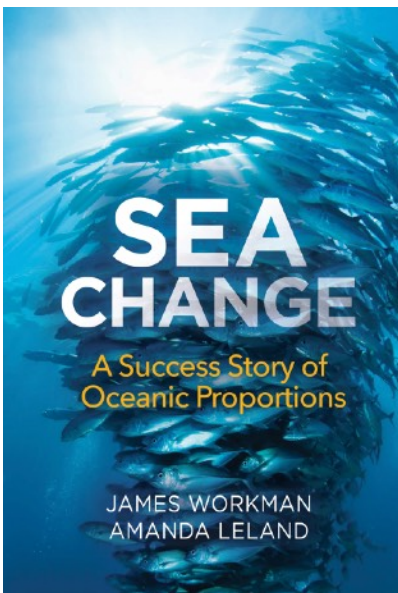

Karin Anderson's follow up to her award-winning novel What Falls Away is a tour-de-force of character—an intimate and epic reckoning with past, place, and the people who shape the course of our lives.

KARIN ANDERSON is a gardener, writer, mother, wanderer, and heretic, as well as the author of What Falls Away and Before Us Like a Land of Dreams. Currently she wrangles apparitions and leftover pets, plants tomatoes, and re-composes at home in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Sea Change: An Environmental Success Story of Oceanic Proportions

by James Workman and Amanda Leland | September 2025

Sea Change tells the story of unlikely partnerships and surprising solutions that are revolutionizing the fishing industry and restoring the world's most vital ecosystem. Fisherman Keith "Buddy" Guindon had followed every suggested policy and practice to no avail, until he—along with scientists, government agencies, and environmental groups—helped lead real change that is preventing overfishing and securing resource longevity. Sea Change demonstrates that success is possible, that the time is now, and the methods are here to conserve our natural world and the people who depend on it.

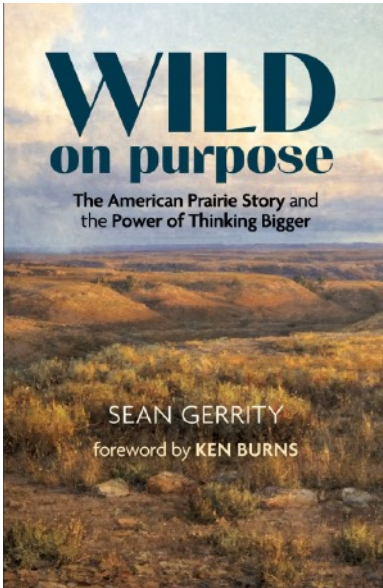

JAMES WORKMAN studied at Yale and Oxford, taught at Wesleyan and Whitman, and served as Special Assistant to US Secretary of the Interior Bruce Babbitt. Workman is the co-founder of online market platform AquaShares and lives in San Francisco, California.

AMANDA LELAND is the Executive Director of the Environmental Defense Fund. Leland earned her Master's in Marine Biology at the University of Maine and now lives in Washington, DC.

Wild on Purpose: The American Prairie Story and the Power of Thinking Bigger

by Sean Gerrity | October 2025

Wild on Purpose recounts the journey to transform a century-old conservation dream into reality: creating a new American Prairie. Now, this vast wildlife reserve is poised to become the largest in the contiguous US. With humor and humility, founding CEO Sean Gerrity immerses readers in the challenges, triumphs, and unwavering commitment that brought American Prairie to life. Now, Gerrity seeks to upend our understanding of conservation: calling us to move beyond “saving what’s left” to making new wild spaces—to the benefit of the planet, the future, and ourselves.

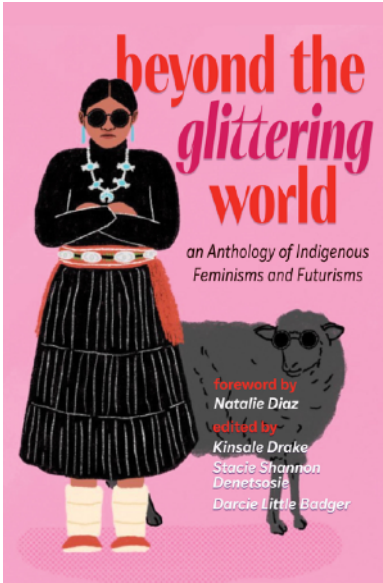

SEAN GERRITY is the founder and past president of American Prairie. Gerrity co-founded Catalyst Consulting, where he worked from 1985 until 2001. He is now the host of The Answers Are Out There podcast and lives in Bozeman, Montana, with his wife, Kayla.

Beyond the Glittering World: An Anthology of Indigenous Feminisms and Futurisms

edited by Kinsale Drake, Darcie Little Badger, and Stacie Denetsosie

foreword by Natalie Diaz | November 2025

Bringing together twenty new and established Native American writers of marginalized genders, Beyond the Glittering World proclaims and celebrates a rising generation of Indigenous storytellers. Readers will find themselves immersed in stories, poems, and worlds as varied as their authors—singular voices at their genre bending, boundary-breaking, devastating, and joyous best.

KINSALE DRAKE (Diné) is a writer whose work has appeared or is forthcoming in Poetry, Best New Poets, Poets.org, Black Warrior Review, Teen Vogue, TIME, NPR, and elsewhere. Her first book, The Sky Was Once a Dark Blanket, won the 2023 National Poetry Series. She is the director of NDN Girls Book Club and lives in Nashville, TN.

DARCIE LITTLE BADGER (Lipan Apache) is writer of science fiction, fantasy, horror, and comics. She is the author of three critically acclaimed novels: Elatsoe, named by TIME magazine as one of the best 100 fantasy books of all time; A Snake Falls to Earth, and Sheine Lende. Darcie has a PhD in oceanography and is married to a veterinarian named Taran.

STACIE SHANNON DENETSOSIE (Diné) is the author of The Missing Morningstar and Other Stories, which was named a 2024 Southwest Book of the Year and a 2024 PEN/Robert W. Bingham Prize finalist. She received her MFA from the Institute of American Indian Arts. Originally from Kayenta, Arizona, Stacie currently resides in Northern Utah.